

We have prepared the following Q&A regarding UTMB stones. If you have any additional queries, please email UTMB directly. Thank you.

What are the UTMB stones for?

Based on information on the UTMB website:

You will be able to enter the lottery for the 2022 UTMB®, CCC®, TDS® and OCC races of the UTMB® Mont-Blanc by using the stones.

One stone will provide one entry in the lottery to participate in the UTMB®, CCC®, TDS® and OCC races at UTMB® Mont-Blanc. So with 3 stones, you triple your odds in the lottery against someone who only has one ticket in the lottery.

Stones collected from HK100 Flex can be used for the lottery to enter UTMB®, CCC®, TDS® or OCC. Stones collected from The Half Flex can be used for the lottery to enter CCC®, TDS® or OCC.

How can I enter the UTMB Mont-Blanc lottery with my stones?

The stones are recorded on your runner's account with UTMB Mont-Blanc. You may pre-register for the race of your choice and use your stock of stones to improve your odds in the lottery.

If you are selected via the lottery, the stones will disappear from your stock.

If you are not selected via the lottery, your stones stock remains untouched and can be used for a subsequent year's lottery.

(Question not related to Flex) Did I get any stones when I completed the 2020 edition of HK100?

Yes, you were awarded 5 stones. If you have not used them for the 2021 UTMB lottery (see below), then you may use them for the 2022 lottery instead. However, for the 2022 lottery, the stones you collected from the 2020 edition of HK100 will be converted from 5 to 3 stones, according to UTMB Mont-Blanc.

(Question not related to Flex) Did I get any stones when I completed the 2020 edition of The Half?

No. Sorry!

(Question not related to Flex) Can I use my stones from 2020 HK100 to enter the 2021 UTMB Mont-Blanc lottery?

If you have collected enough stones in 2020 (UTMB®: 18 running stones / CCC®: 15 running stones / TDS®: 15 running stones / OCC: 12 running stones), then you can write to info@utmb.world before 31 December to ask to be entered in the lottery for the 2021 event.